Mesquite is quarried from a bedrock quarry in the Madurai Region of India. The color tones in Mesquite vary from light green to beige and cream. At times, hints of salmon and highlights of light blue will be seen in this granite. The movement in the stone will vary in every shipment, so it is important to view before purchasing. During the polishing process, an epoxy resin is applied to the surface of the stone to fill in any natural pits, cracks or fissures that may exist. This does not affect the durability, maintenance or beauty of the stone. It is possible for some of the more minute pits, that are too small to effectively hold the resin, to reopen during other finishing stages. However, this will not detract from the overall quality or appearance of the stone. Due to the qualities of the stone, the slabs are book-matched; meaning slab one and slab two will be cut and polished to create a mirror image of each other. These are then kept in sequence, which allows for a consistent flow in pattern. As a natural stone product, it is recommended that it be sealed to extend its longevity.
