Meteor Shower is quarried from a bedrock quarry in Minas Gerais, Brazil. The blocks are cut to show a three dimensional look which is unique and different from any granite on the market. There will be random white quartz crystals on the slabs ranging in size from approximately one inch to the size of a softball. Other than these quartz spots, the slabs remain fairly consistent. Due to the qualities of the stone, the slabs are book-matched; meaning slab one and slab two will be cut and polished to create a mirror image of each other. These are then kept in sequence, which allows for a consistent flow in pattern. As a natural stone product, it is recommended that it be sealed to extend its longevity.
