Leblon Satin is a cool grey quartzite from Brazil. With dramatic taupe veining cascading across undertones of blue, Leblon Satin artistically adds an organic element to any installation. While most lots of Leblon Satin will have diagonal veining, it is possible to have an occasional block with horizontal veins instead. The blue and grey tones on the background of Leblon Satin will also vary from shipment to shipment. During the brushing process, an epoxy resin is applied to the surface of the stone to fill in any natural pits, cracks or fissures that may exist. It is possible for some of the more minute pits that are too small to effectively hold the resin, to reopen during other finishing stages. However, this will not detract from the overall quality or appearance of the stone. Due to the qualities of the stone, the slabs are book-matched, meaning slab one and slab two will be cut and brushed to create a mirror image of each other. These are then kept in sequence, which allows for a consistent flow in pattern. As a natural stone product, it is recommended that this be sealed to extend its longevity. Finally, a mesh backing is adhered to the back of the stone to ensure safety while handling and fabricating the slab.
