Aerial has a look of an Italian agglomerate (meaning that it is comprised of small pieces of stone, fused together using resin) which was used centuries ago in Italian architecture. Aerial is an off-white quartz with neutral tone quartz pebbles that range in size and color from shades of grey to warm brown tones. Agglomerate stone has recently gained popularity in today's design community and Aerial is one of the first quartz in the market to copy that old world look. Della Terra® Quartz, a natural quartz surface, is a blend of nature and technology. It consists of up to 94% quartz, one of the hardest minerals in nature. Color controlled quartz is blended together with technologically advanced polymers. Della Terra® Quartz surfaces are ultra-durable, resistant to scratches and chipping, plus its dense composition makes it highly resistant to staining. Della Terra® Quartz should be used for interior surfaces only. During fabrication, it is recommended to use denatured alcohol rather than acetone to clean quartz slabs. However, if acetone is used, it should first be applied with a rag, wiping on and off immediately.
