Fantasy Statuary Satin is quarried in northern India. It is characterized by consistent webbed veining accentuating its pristine white background. The flowing appearance of the veins give the material a classic, luxurious look and feel. This stone can have diagonal or linear movement depending on the block. It is such a hard stone, that it needs to be cut using a granite gang saw instead of a marble gang saw. Due to its hardness, Fantasy Statuary Satin is well suited for kitchen countertop use. During the brushing process, an epoxy resin is applied to the surface of the stone to fill in any natural pits, cracks or fissures that may exist. This does not affect the durability, maintenance or beauty of the stone. It is possible for some of the more minute pits that are too small to effectively hold the resin, to reopen during other finishing stages. However, this will not detract from the overall quality or appearance of the stone. Due to the qualities of the stone, the slabs are book-matched, meaning slab one and slab two will be cut and brushed to create a mirror image of each other. These are then kept in sequence, which allows for a consistent flow in pattern. A mesh backing is adhered to the back of the stone to ensure safety while handling and fabricating the slab. As a natural stone product, it is recommended that this be sealed to extend its longevity.
