Bardiglio is a dark grey and white marble that is often called Bardiglio Scuro, with "scuro" meaning "dark color" in Italian. Bardiglio will have a mix of light and dark grey tones within a slab, along with some areas of white. This marble will have sweeping veins and movement which will change on every shipment. It is a common characteristic for this stone to have small pits in the raw material. Before the stone reaches the polishing stages, these pits are filled with polyester resin. Depending on how deep each pit is, the resin may shrink as it dries, which will leave the surface of the filled area slightly lower than the rest. This does not affect the durability, maintenance or beauty of the stone. During the winter months, most of the quarries are shut down for a period of time because of the harsh conditions of snow and ice. There will be noticeable variations in color and movement within slabs, between pieces and from block to block. Therefore, it is important to note that if slab and tile are being used together in a project, it is recommended to verify the colors prior to installation. Additionally, a range of this product should be viewed before finalizing a purchase. Piece to piece variation in shade or color are inherent in all natural stone products; therefore, when installing natural stone tile, it is recommended to mix tiles from several boxes at a time during installation to achieve the best range of color. As a natural stone product, it is recommended that it be sealed to extend its longevity.
