Chymia evokes the alchemical process of raw material. The collection consists of a series that fluctuates between the discipline of graphic design and the expressive gestures of mark-making as well as between the two extremes of black and white, in which symbols and textures are combined to create patterns of light and shadow on the surface.

Only available in full box quantities; substitutions and exchanges from other boxes are not allowed. The mix includes 6 faces. Most boxes will contain two of each face, however the minimum number of faces in each box is not guaranteed. Design layout should be approved prior to installation.

Because this material is a porcelain product, minimal maintenance is required. This series is suitable for residential and commercial applications.
